BATTLE OVER INSTRUCTING N. Y. DELEGATES

STRUCK BY SUBMARINE BOAT.

Russians Say Battleship Did Not Strike a Mine.

New Theory Is Advanced for the Great Sea Disaster.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 18.—A requiem mass was celebrated yesterday for the repose of the soul of Colonel Agapoff, who was officially reported to have lost his life at the time of the Petropavlovsk disaster. During the night his wife received a telegram saying he was alive but seriously injured.

GIVE UP PORT ARTHUR.

The Russ discusses the suggestion of the retirement of the Russians from Port Arthur, recalling the abandonment of Moscow in 1812, and pointing out that General Noutouff, who recommended it, was first thought to be mad, yet it proved in the end to be the undoing of Napoleon and also Admiral Nachimoff's advice, which was not followed, for a desperate sortie from Sebastopol with the wooden ships against the allies in 1854.

The Russ comes to the conclusion that no matter what the fate of Port Arthur may be, it will have no decisive bearing on the ultimate result of the campaign.

SUBMARINE BOAT.

A Russian admiral, who holds to the theory that a submarine boat sank the Petropavlovsk, discussing the full report of the disaster, cabled to the Associated Press from Liao Yang, said:

"It does not prove she struck a mine. On the contrary, it is evident from the dispatch that the Petropavlovsk was some distance off shore, where it was impossible to say contact mines on account of the depth of the water. The signalman's story is irreconcilable with the mine theory. Like Grand Duke Cyril he was sucked down to a great depth. His says the Petropavlovsk was almost at a standstill, which would have been the most favorable position for a submarine boat."

Some of the papers which insist upon the submarine boat theory lay great stress upon the alleged statement made by one of the Cramps of Philadelphia who is quoted as saying the Japanese had submarine boats obtained from Great Britain.

Vice-Admiral Skrydloff, the successor of Vice-Admiral Makaroff, arrives here Tuesday night. A big popular demonstration is being arranged in his honor. Captains Stenikoff and Claret have been appointed flag officers to Admiral Skrydloff.

PRINCE PU LUN ENTERTAINED.

GIVEN A BANQUET BY THE CHINESE SIX COMPANIES.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Prince Pu Lun, the Imperial Chinese Commissioner to the St. Louis Exposition, was entertained today at a banquet by the presidents of the Chinese six companies.

He will leave tonight for Washington to pay his respects to President Roosevelt before proceeding to the exposition city. He has expressed himself as greatly pleased with the warmth of his welcome to this country.

BOTKIN CASE IS BEING HEARD.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—The preliminary examination of Mrs. Cordelia Botkin was resumed today, the time of the police court being occupied by the re-taking of testimony of the

GRAPHIC STORY OF WRECK

How the Russian Steel Monster Went to the Bottom.

An Eye Witness Tells How the Big Battleship Keel Over.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 18, 12:10 p. m.—In the dramatic description of the sinking of the Petropavlovsk, off Port Arthur, wired from Liao Yang last night by a Russian correspondent of the Associated Press, a portion of the account referring to the blowing up of the Petropavlovsk was delayed.

It is as follows:

"Moving at reduced speed the Petropavlovsk came abreast of Electric Cliff. The torpedo boats were entering the harbor when suddenly from the starboard side of the Petropavlovsk's bow, a white column shot up.

"There was a double muffled explosion and the whole flagship became covered with orange-brown smoke. 'They're firing a broadside,' cried a gunner standing beside me, but through my binoculars I gazed speechless and horror-stricken. I could see fragments of wreckage falling from above the broken rigging of the foremost and flames of fire shooting out.

"The ship's sinking; she's sinking," wailed some one beside me.

"The Petropavlovsk began to settle slowly by the head, heeling far over to starboard until her rail was under water. Her bow had already disappeared and now the foremost was sinking. I could still see the conning tower. Then her smoke stacks disappeared. They seemed to fall through the water and the sea began to engulf the mainmast. Her after turret, with its guns pointing skyward, quickly vanished; then her stern, with the port propeller still revolving. I could see figures desperately clutching at the slippery hull and tongues of flame. A last explosion and all was over. The flagship was no more.

"Boats from the torpedo boat destroyer Gaydanak, hurried to the scene of the disaster. It was forty minutes past nine in the morning."

ROOSEVELT WILL TOUCH BUTTON

HE WILL START THE WHEELS GOING AT THE ST. LOUIS FAIR.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Tentative arrangements have been completed for the ceremony at the White House incident to the opening of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

It has been decided that the ceremony should take place in the east room of the White House at 1 o'clock on Saturday, April 30th.

The justices of the United States Supreme Court, the members of the diplomatic corps, the president pro tem of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, together with a few other guests, will be invited to be present.

A special telegraph loop will be run into the east room, affording a direct wire with the exposition grounds at St. Louis.

Precisely at 1 o'clock President Roosevelt will press the key that will start the machinery of the fair. He then will exchange congratulatory messages with President Francis.

CANNOT HAVE AN INJUNCTION.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Vice-Chancellor Bergen dismissed the application for an injunction against the Northern Securities meeting and the distribution of stock, sustaining the Northern Securities contention that the suit was unwarranted.

DEATH OF C. E. CROWLEY.

Cornelius E. Crowley, a native of Wisconsin, aged 21 years, died last night after a short illness, at his residence, 955 Klidam street. The deceased was a clerk by occupation. He leaves a widow and child. The funeral will be held from the family residence tomorrow.

GREAT EXCITEMENT ON FLOOR OF THE CONVENTION.

PARKER MEN ARE FIRM.

Hill Declares His Man Must Be Named By Delegates.

Lie Is Passed at Meeting of N. Y. State Committee.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 18.—The Democratic State convention to elect delegates to the National convention and to nominate delegates-at-large and Presidential electors, was called to order here this afternoon.

Great confusion resulted from orders which had been given to keep the doors closed until the last moment.

The result was that when the doors were opened at three minutes before two o'clock the crowd burst in with a yell and a rush.

In three minutes the top gallery was filled with a stamping and shouting mass of men and boys.

In the galleries were a number of Hearst banners and a running fire of shouts and comments was maintained by the gallery crowd.

ONE CONCESSION.

While the delegates were assembling a rumor gained circulation that Senator Hill and the Parker forces had partially decided that between the sessions of the convention they would inform the Tammany people that they would concede the choice of Charles F. Murphy in the delegation-at-large to the National convention.

GREAT CRUSH.

The crush before the doors and in the hall was tremendous.

The aisles were filled with a scrambling crowd, demanding seats at the ratio of about three persons to one seat. The police were all but helpless. Hats were smashed, clothing torn, faces scratched and feet trampled in the rush.

Order was finally restored and Former State Senator George Raines of Monroe county was introduced as chairman and he delivered a speech to the convention.

PARKER HAS CONVENTION.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 18.—Politicians were astir early this morning and the headquarters of Tammany, of David B. Hill and of W. R. Hearst were busy spots by 8 o'clock. So far as could be learned at an early hour there had been no change in the situation and the Tammany leaders said they were quite content to go on the floor of the convention.

JUDGE PARKER.

tion and state their case. That they would be beaten was conceded, but they claimed there was a principle involved and they would carry the matter to the floor of the national convention.

WANTED TO COMPROMISE.

It was said that Mr. Murphy of Tammany had this morning offered to compromise by suggesting that Tammany would agree to the adoption of the unit rule if the name of a candidate as for instance, Judge Parker, was not mentioned. It was conceded that there being almost two-thirds of the delegates in favor of Judge Parker a mere abolition of the unit rule would practically be an endorsement of Judge Parker and yet would let Tammany down gracefully. But with this proposition was coupled the demand that Tammany be allowed a delegate-at-large. Mr. Murphy himself preferably.

IN FAVOR OF PARKER.

To this suggestion Mr. Hill gave an emphatic no. The name of Judge Parker must be in the resolutions and the delegates-at-large must be men who are heartily in his favor and whose loyalty to his candidacy cannot be questioned.

With this early morning's failure of negotiations for peace the preparations for battle went on. Senator Hill, replying to a question as to what he situation was, said:

"More than two-thirds of the convention is for Judge Parker. That is all I care to say."

STATE COMMITTEE.

At a meeting of the State committee this morning, Former State Senator Geo. Raines was chosen both temporary and permanent chairman.

When the roll of delegates was about to be called in the committee, Senator Grady, the Tammany representative, moved that all contests be noted. The secretary said he had no notice of any

JAPANESE DRIVEN BACK

Failed to Land Troops on Shore of Korea Bay.

Fire of the Ozar's Men Too Heavy for the Japs.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 18.—An attempted landing by Japanese troops on the shores of Korea bay, between Port Arthur and the Yalu river, April 12, was frustrated by the Russians.

A Japanese torpedo-boat flotilla scouted the shores of the bay but was received with such a heavy fire from land batteries at Taku Shan, Shing Tai Tse, Teluane and Badzing that it retired.

Vice Admiral Togo's flagship then recalled nine transports, which were on the way to land troops.

A squadron of ten warships protecting the transports withdrew with them.

The Russians have 20,000 troops concentrated at Taku Shan.

The correspondent of the London Standard at St. Petersburg sent in a dispatch to his paper on April 15 saying it was rumored that Vice Admiral Togo's fleet had escorted a number of Japanese transports to land troops at a point to the west of the Yalu river. When 12,000 Japanese had disembarked the Russian troops, who were lying concealed, suddenly attacked them and drove them back to their ships with heavy losses in men and guns.

While the story published in the Standard and the one given in the above dispatch do not agree in all details, their similarity and the geographical location of the attempted landing leads to the conclusion that both reports refer to the same occurrence.

JAPANESE FLEET ON WAY TO KIN CHOW.

TIEN TSIN, April 18.—From several sources reports have been received here saying that a Japanese fleet of over seventy transports is heading for Kin Chou, north of Port Arthur.

SUBMARINE BOATS FOR RUSSIANS.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 18.—The first of the submarine boats building at St. Petersburg and forty wagon loads of ammunition were dispatched today to the theater of war. The submarine boat, which was sent off in sections, is elliptical in shape and fitted with an improved electrical apparatus for firing torpedoes with which, it is asserted, experiments have shown enormously increased offensive power of torpedoes.

STRIKE STOPS WORK ON BATTLESHIPS.

QUINCY, Mass., April 18.—Work in the extensive yards of the Fore River Ship and Engine Company here was tied up today by a strike of 2600 men over a question of hours.

The action of the men stopped work on the battleships Rhode Island, New Jersey and Vermont, as well as on large private contracts.

Unless the difference is successfully adjusted it is thought the launching of the battleship Rhode Island, set for April 30, will be delayed.

BODY FOUND ON RAILROAD TRACK.

STOCKTON, April 18.—The body of a man supposed to be a laborer was found this morning about a mile and a half south of town on the Southern Pacific Railroad track badly mangled.

The man was about five feet seven inches tall, had a black mustache and dark features. It is supposed that he was run over by a train.

The rescue of the torpedo-boat destroyers Strashni and Bezstrashni. The same dispatch reports that a Japanese cruiser was sunk, adding that the cause is unknown.

The Novoe Vremya publishes an expert article showing the impossibility and futility of trying to raise the Petropavlovsk as she lies.

TRIES TO DEFEAT GALLOWS.

Brutal Bandit Swallows a Big Dose of Sulphur.

Peter Neidermiller Tears the Veins of His Wrist But Misses Artery.

CHICAGO, April 18.—Peter Neidermiller, the leader of the car barn bandits, condemned to die on the gallows Friday, made two desperate attempts at suicide today. His condition as a result is so precarious that it is feared it is impossible for him to survive. Should he still be alive next Friday he will be carried to the gallows and executed.

Neidermiller planned his attempted suicide carefully.

First he mutilated and swallowed the heads of seventy-five or 100 sulphur matches.

While the phosphorus was burning his stomach he sawed at the radial artery of his left wrist with a sharp pointed lead pencil.

TORE HIS VEINS.

Striking a bone in the wrist he gave up trying to sever the artery and turned his weapon to the large vein on the outer side of his left forearm and with jabs and a saw-saw motion he lacerated the flesh and muscles of the arm and tore open the veins, leaving a large jagged wound exposed, through which the blood gushed in streams, dyeing his bedclothing and running down over the cell floor in pools.

SECOND ATTEMPT.

His second attempt came after the wound had been closed and dressed by the county physician.

Neidermiller was lying apparently unconscious in the hospital under a guard's care. His right arm and hand were hidden by the bedclothing and, with hardly a discernible motion, he slipped the bandages off his left arm and with his sharp finger nails tore away the threads in the wound, inserting his forefinger in the ragged hole, he worked again at the veins and sought to reach an artery.

He unconsciously uttered a groan and made a convulsive movement which attracted the attention of the physicians, nurses and the guard, and upon throwing back the coverlets the attendants saw with horror that Neidermiller had torn away the bandages and reopened the wound. Neidermiller opened his eyes and with a leer, win smile, exclaimed:

LET ME DIE.

"Let me die, doc. Go away and let me die. You were almost to late the first time. Now why do you try to save my life?"

Neidermiller lost a quantity of blood and was almost pulseless for a time. The most danger, however, is that poisonous phosphorus has burned him so severely that his life cannot be saved for its final suffocating out on the gallows. For the last two weeks Neidermiller has been saving the matches he was able to beg. He gave up smoking to some extent so he could hoard them.

Neidermiller's first attempt at suicide was nearly successful.

LEFT A LETTER.

A letter written by Neidermiller prior to the attempt at suicide was found concealed in his coat. In it the writer incidentally expresses repentance for his career and regrets leaving the few who have loved him, but chiefly the letter is a morbid glorification of the writer's courage and his loyalty to his kind, in contrast with Neidermiller's associate, Gustav Marx.

ANNA HELD AT THE MACDONOUGH.

ANNA HELD.

Anna Held supported by a perfect company and surrounded by the most beautiful and best dressed chorus in the world will be the attraction at the Macdonough Theatre tonight and tomorrow night. "Mlle. Napoleon," a play founded on facts and pertaining to Napoleon's love for Mlle. Marie, a noted French actress of 1803 is the name of the vehicle for the display of Anna Held's talents and of all of her beautiful costumes and scenery but surround her. The play was written by Jean Richeur, a noted French dramatist and adapted by Joseph W. Herbert who also staged this enormous production and besides plays the leading comedy part. The music is by Guy Lardere and he has composed some of the best, brightest and catchiest tunes of his career for "Mlle. Napoleon." The company is an excellent one, and so full justice to their various parts. The scenery is superb and the last effects marvelous. Many new and startling novelties are introduced and the whole show is one of those bright dazzling affairs full of bright singing, dancing, musical smart men, beautiful women and startling stage effects. There are a few choice seats left for either performance.

MRS. FISKE.

One of the most prominent characters in "Mary of Magdala," that Mrs. Fiske will present at the Macdonough Theatre on Friday night, is Judas of Kerioth (Isariot), who is pictured by Paul Heyse in an interesting, novel and logical light.

Instead of being a creature of aversion who betrays his Master for a paltry pittance, Judas is, in "Mary of Magdala," an ardent patriot, who follows the Nazarene in the belief that he is the Messiah who is to free Judea from bondage. To such a man, who carries his love of country to the point of fanaticism, the gospel of peace preached by the Nazarene could not be a bitter disappointment and it is this blow to his long-cherished hopes that leads Judas to commit the betrayal. This treatment of the character has aroused much favorable comment and it has the merit of plausibility and congruence with the history of the time. Mary of Magdala, Judas and Galilee, the High Priest are the only Biblical characters in the Heyse play. Irene's Helma Gabriel will be played on Saturday afternoon. There will be no performance on Saturday night.

THIS WEEK WILL CLOSE BONDS CAMPAIGN.

Efficient Work Will Be Done for the Bonds During the Next Few Days.

On Saturday next the school bond election will be held. During the intervening days the Board of Education will make a brief, but energetic campaign. It is thought by those who have estimated the chances of the bonds carrying, that they will carry in the ratio possibly of 5 to 1.

"BOOSTERS" MEETING.

On Wednesday evening there will be a meeting at the Common School Assembly Hall under the auspices of the "Boosters." At which the issuance of the $260,000 bonds will be discussed. H. C. Chapin will make an address on the benefit of the "Boosters." City Superintendent of Schools McClummonds will make a detailed explanation of the purpose of the money will be expended. Following Superintendent McClummonds, Mayor Olney, Councilman Elliot, and Gay C. Earl will make addresses on the bonds, speaking from the standpoint of the necessity of increased school facilities.

OAKLAND IS GROWING.

According to the figures in possession of the Board of Education, it is shown that the school population of Oakland is increasing very much faster than the surrounding cities. The reason, combined with numerous other ones, will be put forward by the Board of Education in support of the bond proposition. At the present time the school department is laboring under great difficulties in accommodating the pupils. In a short while it will be utterly impossible to provide accommodations for the increased numbers unless new buildings are erected. It is the intention of the Board to erect modern fireproof buildings of brick and concrete. It is thought that this form of investment will be most acceptable to the voters. An argument in favor of the bonds it is argued that at present time the school sites can be purchased at a much less cost than they can be in a few years.

CHILDREN WILL PAY.

The cost of the new buildings will be a very large measure be paid for by the children who will obtain their education in the new buildings.

From estimates made by Superintendent

McClummonds it is shown that the first year after the bonds are issued every $1000 of assessed value will be called on to pay $8 for bond redemption and interest. Each year thereafter the amount for interest and bond redemption will be decreased. By the time ten years have elapsed every $1000 of assessed value will be called on to pay only $1 cents. The average yearly amount that will have to be paid by a $1000 worth of property for the entire forty years is 60 cents or $24.42 for the entire period.

CONTROL OF THE FUNDS.

The present board of school directors will have the control of the funds raised by the bonding of the city. The personal control of the funds will be by W. J. Wilcox, president; George E. Randolph, Lowell J. Hardy, F. M. Hathaway, John O. Jones, Dr. Mary Knack, Dr. A. H. Pratt, C. H. Reddington, D. Robertson and C. D. Rogers.

The school affairs of the city have practically been under the control of this board for many years. The success with which the board has coped with every proposition presenting itself in the past is an argument in favor of the money being wisely and judiciously expended. It is estimated that the present school census which is being taken that the city of Oakland will have more than 18,000 eligible school children. The present schools are designed to accommodate not more than 2000 and then the children are very cramped. It seems from such a showing as this that the bonds will carry with practically little or no opposition at all.

NORTHWEST IN LINE.

The Northwest Oakland Improvement Club is sending out the following circular relative to a meeting to be held to boost the bonds.

"OAKLAND, April 18, 1904. "There will be a meeting of the Northwest Oakland Improvement Club at 252 Hollis street, on Tuesday evening, April 19, at 8 o'clock, to consider school bonds. Important subject. Good speakers. Plunge be present. "CHARLES H. DESCOMBES, President."

MOTHER-IN-LAW TELLS HOW HE LOCKED WIFE OUT OF THE HOUSE.

The hearing of the Page divorce suit was continued this morning and Mrs. Mary Ryan, mother of Mrs. Jennie Page, who is suing R. B. Page of San Leandro for a divorce, told the court what she had seen and heard of the troubles of her daughter during certain maternal visits she had paid to the home of her son-in-law. One of Page's complaints against his wife, according to her, was that she was "too nice." He complained to Mrs. Ryan that Jennie was not just what he desired or expected in a wife and he was disappointed that she would not submit to his will.

She also related an occasion when Page had threatened to shoot his wife, and in this connection told the following story: "My daughter and I had been out spending the evening and returned home about 11 o'clock. When we got to the house we found the doors and windows locked. Then Jennie res minders a little window that was generally left open and she managed to climb through it and get in. Mr. Page was inside and said: 'You I am getting tired of this and the next time it happens I'll put a hole through you.' She went on to state that he sat up in bed after they got in and abused both of them for nearly two hours. The next morning at breakfast he continued the subject and then made the complaints to Mrs. Ryan of his disappointment and told her of other women whom he much preferred that would do as he wanted them to.

The divorce suit was also back to the stand for a few minutes and told of one occasion when Page left her and her mother with but one small cake of hamburger steak, about the size of a dollar, for their dinner. The two of them divided this morsel and ate bread and butter to make out the meal. Cheapness of living was one of the things it is charged Page had reduced to a science.

Mrs. Ryan also testified to the fact that she believed that at one time her daughter was dying and had asked Page to be kind to her and that he himself did not believe she had long to live. With all of this it is claimed that he refused to get her sufficient nourishing food.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

After people break an engagement they try to ice all the pieces. Some men are so invariably optimistic they will try to teach women how to play cards.

Some men calls herself merely plump until she has to quit going to places that don't have elevators.

HAND PAINTED WAISTS.

The old-fashioned cross stitch with which our grandmothers wrought samples and bookmarks is now the height of fashion. To be strictly in style one must have a cross-stitch embroidered waist. The favorite color combinations are black, blue and red; black, red and green and rose. Many of the favorite waist materials are of canvas is backed on the goods and after the design is worked through to the material the cantas threads are drawn out. Silk floss and rope are used on heavier materials, and silk finished linen for embroidering on finer or cotton.

Decorated waists are very fashionable. Design a pattern for a waist and furnish very cheaply with directions for painting. Any one who can use the brush at all can have a lovely waist, decorated with cherry sprays, morning glories, ferns, wild roses, etc. It is called shadow painting.

Jeweled and embroidered cuffs adorn wraps and waists. The Indian beads are beautiful and are also used to ornament lampshades. Colored laces in silk and wool are much in vogue. Insertions in colors are very fashionable. Those who can crochet and make tatting can now trim their dresses fashionably with their own handiwork.

Long, wide ties are made of silk or of crepe and tied in a large chic bow under the chin.

WANT TO BOOST FOOT-HILL ROAD DAY OF DISGRACE COUNTY. TOMORROW. DELAYED.

PROPOSITION TO SUPERVISORS BY IMPROVERS OF ALAMEDA.

The following communication, suggestive of establishing a county "booster" organization was read this morning before the Supervisors:

West End Alameda Improvement Association, Alameda, March 31, 1904. Gentlemen—On Thursday, April 21, 1904, the West End Alameda Improvement Association are going to give, at their meeting place, the "wigwam," corner of Webster street and Alameda avenue, an "open house," or reception to all the organizations in Alameda county that are interested in the improvement, advancement and "boosting" of our county; and, knowing that you take great interest in this work, we wish to extend to you and your ladies a most cordial, friendly and neighborly invitation to join us on this evening, as we will have good speakers, good music and a flood of wisdom and wit that will please all.

"We can perhaps, at this meeting, effect the organization of an Alameda county association for improvement, advancement and 'boosting' that will have for its executive committee the officers of all the different associations of the county who will take up and handle in the future such matters as the proposed boulevard along the foot hills to Haywards, etc., and it would be such a concentration of strength that we could accomplish great work for our county."

"Hoping to have the pleasure of seeing you with your ladies on the evening of April 21, 1904, we are, yours for improvement, "WEST END ALAMEDA IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION," "C. R. SMITH, Pres."

Firmly Convinced

We firmly believe that you could not produce an argument which could convince us that our Spring stock of Men's and Boys' Clothing is not by long odds the best we have ever carried—and that means the best that money can buy—we know it—and the way you and your fellow wearers make purchases from it last Saturday, we would say that—you too—are firmly convinced.

Concluding Baseball Game Between Stanford and California Will Be Played at Idora Park

BERKELEY, April 18.—Idora Park has been chosen as the grounds for the third baseball game of the Intercollegiate series. The game will be called at 2 p. m. on Saturday April 22. According to the Intercollegiate agreement the third game, if necessary to decide the championship, is to be played on neutral territory. The third games have in previous years been played in San Francisco.

Each team has a captain and credit and are led as to score, each winning by 6 to 2. The Stanford team has been training very hard since the last game and shows distinct improvement. Sales and Schuch, the second baseman of the Stanford game, has developed into fine form and is pitching first-class ball. Saturday the Stanford team won the game in a well-earned game by the score of 3 to 1. The California team also has been working hard and training consistently and are determined to win the championship.

The unusual interest attached to this Intercollegiate game on account of the fact that the Stanford team has been made it one of the most stubbornly combated in the history of college baseball.

BERKELEY, April 18.—J. Drummond McEvie, 64, sent George Lodge, Stanford tennis champion to the woods in about 35 minutes last Saturday morning by the Cardinal route. The match went to California's representative to the tune of 6-5, 6-2.

When Neill Baker '06, pulled out his match with Cleveland Baker, the Cardinal's second man, the intercollegiate championship was decided in favor of California. Our Baker had a hard pull in getting his share of points, but after he met set the stage for more his way: The final score was 14-0.

MANY SPECTATORS. Despite the threat-nning aspect of the weather, a large crowd came out and lined both sides of the court. Starfords' claims were more in evidence, but the enthusiasm and the fun in the yells were just as high as last year. The Blue and Gold supporters, grouped together in one corner of the court,

McGAVIN AWLINER.—The tournament was begun when J. Drummond McGavin started the ball spinning toward George Hodges. Both players started in by playing cautiously, but McGavin soon got the upper hand. There was no restraint put in the strokes. At no time during the match was McGavin pushed to do his best. Hodges played a consistent game and, considering the fact that he had to put up a credible game. Several times he had a back-hand strokes brought him a point when he needed it badly. His net work was of good order and many of McGavin's lobbs were pulled down in quite heavy fashion.

After winning the second game, Hodge annexed, alternative 5, two, 40392, 4584 and one game during the remainder of the set. He was considerably puzzled by the new brand of serves McGavin introduced. The ball which looked more like a flat pumkin than it did a felt-covered tennis ball.

McGavin was right on hand with the goods when the second set was called. Both played the game more and cut, slashed, and whirled the smasher.

little ball every way. When the skirmish was over McGavin was to the good by 6-2.

NEILL BAKER CLEVER.
Starford's chance of making a point in the singles went smoldering when Neill Baker and Cleveland Baker 3-1, 1-0. The boys were in the game from the beginning, to play an 18-24-24 match.

They both won their services until the fifth game, when "our Baker" took the lead from his opponent. This was of short duration, though, for our opponent tied the score. The set went see-sawing back and forth until the games stood 11 apiece. Here Neil Baker made a spurt and pulled out.

RAIN FALLS.

with a hard cold and was in poor condition. McGavin played hard and sure and by his fire-crashes pulled the games California's way.

California has now defended her title as intercollegiate tennis champion for the third year. Out of five intercollegiate tournaments California has been successful eight times and Stanford but five.

The Cardinals entertained the Blue and Gold players in a most hospitable manner. The court was put in good condition.

BONDS
INVALID.

Will Have to be Re-issued in the South.

SACRAMENTO, April 18.—Several days ago the State Board of Examiners purchased, subject to the approval of the Attorney-General, $75,000 worth of bonds issued by the town of Whittier, Los Angeles county.

It was discovered that the bonds were issued on February 28, 1904, and that interest was made payable on the same date of each year.

As February 29 falls only once in four years it was deemed by the Board of Examiners that the bonds were defective.

Today Attorney-General Webb rendered an opinion supporting this position and advising that the bonds be re-issued in proper shape.

County Clerk C. G. Keyes of Los Angeles today took charge of the bonds and they will be re-issued before the State accepts them and turns over the money for them.

BERKELEY, April 18.—John Malone, aged 30 years, a resident of 2207 Telegraph avenue, was arrested this afternoon on suspicion of being "Jack the Hugger," who has been terrorizing the co-eds of the University of California for some time.

Officer C. W. Killion of the University police force, who made the arrest, said that he caught Malone as he was pursuing two well-known Berkeley women along the path on the north side of the campus. Malone denies the charges and says he is a married man and says he has been working in a hardware store in Berkeley. He was held off, he claims, and was taking a stroll through the grounds when arrested.

For some months past complaints have been made to the University police of a man who has been frightening co-eds on the grounds. The police force was doubled in an effort to capture the man with the result of the arrest being made today.

Malone was taken to the County Jail.

CLEMENCY
TERROR.

He Planned Murder King Edward and His Queen Have Narrow Escape.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 18.—The Emperor has extended clemency to Dr. Guershovnia and two accomplices who were in the terrorist plot, which resulted in the assassinations of M. Bogoloff and the Minister of Instruction, who also was killed by M. Marpovich three years ago; M. Siplarine, the Minister of the Interior, also was shot by Balchanev two years ago, and Governor Bogdanovitch of Oufa, who was killed last year.

Guershovnia and his accomplices were sentenced by a court martial to be hanged, but the Emperor disapproved of the sentence; which was commuted to fifteen years' imprisonment at hard labor.

BENSON LETTERS IN EVIDENCE.

DIMOND READY TO SHOW UP HIS CORRESPONDENCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—The preliminary hearing of the Hyde-Diamond land fraud cases was continued today before United States Commissioner Heacock. Henry P. Dimond, one of the defendants, was recalled, but before proceeding with his testimony Attorney Wheeler said that there was no understanding that Dimond was to become a witness for the State.

Counsel Healey, for the prosecution, confirmed this assertion.

Dimond then testified that while in Washington he was attending to no business of Hyde's, but confined himself to business already before the Land Department.

Asked if he ever undertook to do any business before leaving California for Benson, he answered in the negative, but admitted he had afterwards served Benson, all instructions having been given by letter.

He admitted having in his possession all the correspondence between himself and Benson, which Wheeler immediately offered in evidence.

This was objected to by J. C. Campbell, Benson's attorney, and also by Healey.

Judge Heacock, however, admitted the letters in evidence, saying he considered it "monstrous doctrine" that an attorney's lips should be sealed to prevent his proving himself innocent of a crime.

LETTERS OF RECALL.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 18, 6:30 p. m.—Sir Charles S. Scott, the retiring British Ambassador today presented his letters of recall to the Emperor, with the traditional ceremony. Charles Farrington, successor of Ambassador Scott, is expected here soon.

There is a story, showing something of the intricacies of the English language, of a business man, who, knowing nothing of horses, took his wife for a drive. He was anxious about the disposition of the horse he was to drive and was assured by the driver, a man from whom he hired it, that the animal was perfectly safe as long as the reins were not allowed to become mixed up with his tail. The city man hesitated, but was encouraged to proceed by the assurance, "If you just keep the rein away from his all he will be all right. As he returned the said: "Well, I see you have had no trouble." "Oh, no," said the man, "we had only one shower while we were out and my wife held her umbrella over his tail while that lasted."

Some things that happen on the stage are very wonderful. An English audience was recently marveling at a dog which was playing a bit of an old masterpiece on a piano. Suddenly some one in the audience yelled "Bingo!" and the dog made a break for the piano. But the music kept right along just the same.

TAKING CHANCES.

An illustration of the stoical bravery of a Russian soldier is given by the story of a captain who was unsuccessful in shelling a battery at the siege of Varsovie. Field Marshal Pashkevitch galloped up to the captain and sternly asked why his firing did not have some effect. The captain replied that the shells did not ignite. The marshal scoffed that they and threatened to degrade the officer. The captain picked up one of the shells, ignited the fuse, and holding it in the palm of his hand, said to the marshal: "See for yourself, sir, it is a dud and it is not me, but the shells, that are the cause of the trouble." Both men stood motionless, awaiting the result. Finally the fuse burned out and the captain threw the shell to the ground. "It's true," remarked the marshal, turning away to consider other measures to silence the enemy's fire. In the evening, instead of punishment, the captain received the cross of the Order of St. Vladimir.

FAWCETT MAKES STATEMENT

SAYS THERE WILL BE NO SHAKE-UP IN BOARD OF WORKS.

Secretary Walter Fawcett of the Board of Public Works has issued the following statement:

"A San Francisco paper having stated that there is liable to be a shake-up in the office of the Board of Public Works and that Stenographer Hammore and Street Inspector Denton may be hauled over the coals, if not lose their places altogether. The information that a shake-up was to have taken place in this office seems to have come from the office cat, as the article states that I was not in the office and that neither Hammore nor Denton would submit to an interview."

"For Hammore, I will say that he has a particular value in that he has been in the office for five years and is, therefore, well acquainted with the affairs of the department. His appointment was made by the Board of Public Works, and I have heard none of the Commissioners state that his head was in danger."

"As to Denton's position, there is little to say. He was appointed by the Mayor and his work has been outlined by myself in the past. The object of the appointment was to facilitate the work of this department in having side street contractors and others making streets in the street to replace the openings in as near that original condition as possible. In this work Denton has done well. As to his removal that is a matter for the Mayor. As I understand, his request for the re-appointment could be revoked at any time. Whether or not he contemplates a change I do not know."

The School Bond Election

On Saturday, April 23d, the people living in the various school districts of the city of Oakland will be given an opportunity to vote upon the bond issue as prepared by the Board of Education, for the purpose of giving Oakland a perfect school system.

At the present time, the schools are, in many cases, overcrowded. Some of the school buildings have about outlived their usefulness. In a number of instances, in order to accommodate the great number of pupils who have presented themselves for enrollment, poorly-lighted rooms have been temporarily provided in the basements. Even with these accommodations, the conditions are such that unless additional school accommodations are provided many school children will be denied the privilege of attending the public schools, which is virtually closing the schools to those children—a condition which no citizen of Oakland would propose, unless he be blind to the interest of his district and, indeed, to the interests of the commonwealth.

There are two ways by which a community may provide school accommodations—one by direct tax levied, the other by bonding the school district. If these accommodations be provided by direct tax levy (which is practically impossible), the amount levied for the construction of one building in any one year would be more than the tax levy necessary to pay the bond indebtedness as the bond interest for three and one-half years on the entire bond scheme as proposed by the Board of Education.

It is not honest with posterity to build cheap or temporary buildings with the money derived from the sale of forty-year bonds. Therefore, it must be conceded that the Board of Education has proposed the only plan whereby Oakland may have school buildings of a kind with which the people will be satisfied.

We have been talking of public improvements for years, and it will hardly be denied that improvements should begin with the schools. Nothing speaks more eloquently of an enlightened public spirit than fine school buildings and a thoroughly equipped educational system. Oakland should have not only as good in this particular as any other city but the best. Our schools should be the pride and boast of our city; and this they cannot be unless they are properly supported. The Board of Education have devised a policy that, if carried out, will place Oakland at the head of California cities in the matter of schools. It is a policy that every citizen should endorse at the polls.

Six Feet and a Tenor Vocalist

Judge Parker is six feet tall and sings—in a tenor voice. Mr. Roosevelt is not six feet high and does not sing. Here are issues for the Democracy to seize upon.

In the earlier history of the country the Presidency was inclined to run to tall men, but in the later period a shorter stature has ruled. Washington towered six feet two in his stockings. Jefferson was a six-footer and so were Madison and Monroe. Both the Adamses cut under this mark; but Jackson went above the line. The Presidential stature took a drop when Van Buren was President, but rose again with Tippecanoe and Tyler, too. Both the Whig candidates were tall men. Polk held well up to the six-foot mark, but Taylor, Fillmore and Pierce all fell below it—Pierce lower than anybody. Buchanan renewed the six-foot vogue, and Lincoln lifted his head higher than anybody who ever sat in the Presidential chair. Johnson was little above medium height and Grant was hardly up to it. Neither Hayes nor Garfield were quite six feet, but Arthur measured up to that standard. Cleveland is two inches short of it, and Harrison was quite short—no taller than Pierce, in fact—and McKinley was under five feet ten, which is the height of Theodore Roosevelt.

But Roosevelt will not be on the short end of the voting if he is on the short end of the yard-stick. Nor is the stature issue important save that it is innocuous for the Democrats. To a party that is busy unloading dead-weights and dodging quagmires and bad smells, the question of relative stature would naturally appeal. It is so delightfully free from all relation to the public questions demanding attention.

But the singing is another matter. What tune would Judge Parker sing in his messages to Congress? Would he pipe the song the Democratic Justices of the Supreme Court sang in the Northern Securities case? It is really important that the people should try out Judge Parker's voice on this question. Thomas Jefferson played the fiddle, but when it came to the purchase of the Louisiana territory he quit fiddling and played the statesman. Before we join in the chorus with Brother Parker, we should like to hear him give out the tune. That is in the rule in congregational singing, and it is a good one, too, for then you know whether to pitch your voice to "Old Hundred" or the tune the "Old Cow Died on." If we were giving Judge Parker advice on this subject, we would suggest as an appropriate hymn for the Democracy at this time:

"On Jordan's stormy banks I stand
And cast a wistful eye
To Calvary's fair and happy land
Where my possessions lie."

Decline to Accept, Mr. Mayor

It is to be hoped that Mayor Olney will not only decline to accept the resignation of Councilman John L. Howard, but will also exert all his powers of persuasion to induce him to withdraw it. Mr. Howard's time is valuable, and to nobody is it more valuable than the city of Oakland. Notwithstanding the press of private business of an engrossing character, Mr. Howard has taken hold of the city's affairs with an energy and perspicacity that have been productive of the most beneficial results. With a trained business man's acumen he has sifted out various nebulous propositions of a disturbing character and brought them under calm, practical inspection. He has brought order to the financial operations of the legislative department of the city and enforced economy in every branch of the municipal service. More than any one man—and we say this in no spirit of disparagement of his colleagues in the Council—he is responsible for bringing the city government down to the basis of a business concern. This has required force, persistence, sagacity, keen business perception and arduous labor. That his labor is wearing and irksome on Mr. Howard is true, but it is precisely the kind of service that the city stands in the greatest need of. Mr. Olney doubtless recognizes this, but we trust he will make his emphatic assertion a reason for declining to accept Mr. Howard's resignation. If possible, the chairman of the Finance Committee should be induced to serve his term out.

The Senate has vindicated Senator Dietrich. There is indeed no honor among thieves if Senator Dietrich does not now vindicate the Senate.

John D. Rockefeller On How He Got Rich

Mr. Rockefeller has broken the silence of a life-time by printing his autobiography, at least, a chapter of it. It is pitiful for its concealments. Life tells of his early economies, and exploits the petty ledger of expenditures he kept as a youth and young man. It makes a goody-goody story for young John to tell his Bible class. But the general public knows as well as Mr. Rockefeller himself that the habits and practices he describes so complacently, did not make his fortune; that, with only them, he would not have become rich enough to make any public expression as to how he obtained his wealth desirable. He knows, none better, that his money did not come from slow accumulations and the habits of sobriety he inculcates. As President Wheeler said to the Young Men's Christian Association boys a week ago last Sunday: "Who would have Rockefeller's millions with his record?"

If he will give to the public that record, the story of corrupted legislatures, ruined refineries, secret and illegal freight advantages procured from transportation companies, and the desolated oil fields, it may not make quite such delectable reading, but it will have a more catholic interest, and "open confession is good for the soul." Why, in Bradford and Oil City, in the old oil times, mothers would cry to their children, "Rockefeller! get you if you don't watch out."

Offended Dignity. "They ain't a-goin' to let Bill out on bond no more!" "They ain't!" "No. Last time he got out he shot the judge in the leg by mistake—and the court's ag'in him now!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Confused. Old Gentleman—You're a fine girl, my dear, and is this your little brother? Small Girl—Yeth, ma'am—yeth this. "And what is his name?" "Hith name's Dorothy."—Life.

"From ten to fifteen, sor."

"Ah, yes! Now I have a problem for you. How much water, at this rate, have you hauled in all?"

In an old number of a magazine issued more than a century ago was found a list of different terms used at "tables of elegance" in the days when Queen Charlotte came as the bride of the young and handsome king. From this list it would appear that nothing in the way of game was to be carved. The correct phrase was to "cut up" a turkey, to "rear" a goose, to "unlace" a hare or rabbit, to "wing" a partridge or quail, to "allay" a pheasant, to "dismember" a heron, to "thigh" a woodcock, to "display" a crane, to "lift a swan. Beef and mutton were "carved," of course, and the sporting men prided themselves by using appropriate sporting terms when the spoils of their morning's work made its first appearance on the table.

Come and See How Petticoats are Made

—cut, sewed and trimmed in 6 minutes.

IN OPERATION ALL THIS WEEK.

The picture gives you a little idea of the modern, miniature factory that will be in our store all this week. But it contains nothing to indicate the speed, life, economy of time and the almost miraculous expert work which distinguishes the industrial world of today.

We repeat—COME AND SEE—you're welcome.

These remarkable machines, under the guiding hand of four experts, cut out the sections of black mercerized sateen, sew the body together strapping the seams at the same time, without the loss of a second, two gathered ruffles are made, each trimmed with double rows of hemstitching; a full dust ruffle is made neatly and sewn on firmly, and six minutes after an order is given the finished, lustrous, underskirt with fitted hips is ready for the customer.

It's an industrial exhibit you can't afford to miss.

The Skirts, ordinarily worth $1.48 are sold, as fast as made for 98c.

STEVENS FORMING FINE COMPANY.

POPULAR ROMANTIC ACTOR TO BE SEEN IN THRILLING PRODUCTIONS.

Landers Stevens, the well known actor-manager who for so long a time conducted the Dewey Theater, has returned in excellent health and spirits from his sojourn in the mountains and is now rehearsing one of the finest companies ever gathered here for the next season.

Mr. Stevens will appear in the leading roles in the repertoire of the company, in most of which he is well known to the patrons of the theater in this section. Some of these characterizations, however, will be entirely new though they are ones in which Mr. Stevens will be welcomed, and in which he is sure to shine.

An idea of the repertoire may be obtained by the mention of a few of the plays, namely, "The Only Way," "A Night at the Circus," "Sherlock Holmes," "The Prisoner of Zenda," etc.

Mr. Stevens finds a congenial character in each of these plays, in which he has excelled in his capacity to thrill and charm. Among the support of the star will be George Cooper.

BRITT BANQUET.

James Edward Britt, pugilist and actor, is to be banqueted tonight by his friends, the occasion being in honor of his departure for the East this evening. The affair is in charge of De Witt Van Court, a former boxer and John Ferris. All the flowers of the manly art will be present.

GOES TO VALLEJO.

Sam Mendelson left last Saturday to take charge of the Novelty Theatre at Vallejo for Col. Lubelski. This house is on the Novelty Theatre circuit. Mr. Mendelson is an old time and experienced theatrical man. In his new position, he will prove a valuable acquisition to the list of competent employees on the Novelty Theatre circuit. This concern has playhouses in all the principal cities on the Pacific Coast. The business is branching out at a rapid rate, showing the prosperity this theatrical circuit enjoys under Col. Lubelski's able management as president.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE HARBOR.

SENATE COMMITTEE ON COMMERCE MAKES ITS REPORT.

A dispatch from Washington says: "The Senate Committee on Commerce has reported to the Senate the so-called river and harbor bill, instead of being the usual bill carrying large appropriations, this one merely provides for surveys of the projects for which Appropriations may be made in the future. The only California survey provided for in the bill is one for Oakland harbor. The survey bill contemplates a channel 500 feet wide and twenty-five feet deep from San Francisco bay to Chestnut street, Oakland; a 300-foot channel with a depth of twenty-five feet to Fallon street; thence a channel 300 feet wide and fifteen feet deep to the tidal basin and a channel 300 feet wide and twelve feet deep around the tidal basin."

COMEDY WILL BE SEEN AT LIBERTY.

James Neill will present tonight at Ye Liberty Playhouse Augustin Daly's comedy, "The Lottery of Love." This laugh-maker will undoubtedly draw large houses as its fame is well known. The plot reveals the possibilities of the play for fun. The cast presenting this plot will be excellent. Mr. Neill, Miss Chapman, Mr. Burton, Mr. Bowles, Miss Slosson and Miss Andrews will lead in the fun.

Miss Andrews in particular has a large share of the trouble. She will wear in the play a costume that will cause both surprise and amusement. It is hard to describe and as for naming it that is impossible. The appearance of Miss Slosson after a week out of the cast will be pleasing to her friends. Her part of "Jo," the prize in the lottery will give the first opportunity she has had to play a leading character since the Neill opening. Miss Slosson is a clever artist.

MEMORY MAKER.

Food With Certain Elements Required in the Brain.

Poor memory means an ill-nourished brain. The proper food to help and nourish the brain will thus help the memory as in the following case:

"I have not known what it is to enjoy real good health, not having seen a well day in over 20 years and taking medicine most of the time until about a year ago."

"At that time I was suffering greatly from nervous prostration and general debility, the result of several years of excesses from which I never expected to fully recover."

"Memory was also so poor that it caused me much chagrin at times. I had heard of Grape-Nuts and that it was a brain food. Finally I was put on Grape-Nuts for my meals."

"It was so pleasing to the taste I enjoyed eating it and after a time I saw general improvement in my health. Am not even using my medicine now that I had been unable to do with for years. Grape-Nuts helped my nerves, gave me strength, increased my weight ten pounds and I can now work and play better and enjoy my life as I never expected to again."

"When my friends remark how well I look and act I tell them it is all due to Grape-Nuts. My doctor never says a word about my improved condition. I am an old friend and would like to see me perfectly well knowing how long and how much I have suffered." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

DISCUSSES THE NEW AGREEMENT.

NEW YORK, April 18.—An official address by President Frank Buchanan of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, has been presented at the meetings of the local unions. After discussing the arbitration agreement in effect here, the President said:

"I am hopeful that the members of the International Association will be benefited by their costly experience in New York and be more watchful to see that the union dictates to the business individuals to dictate to the union. Cut out good fellowship and personal friendship and select men on their merits."

"Our association should keep agreements inviolate. A fair agreement means a fair day's pay for a fair day's work. The men who are trying to use the union to hold their jobs in a workmanlike way are enemies to the principles that trades unionism is founded upon, and an organization that will permit its strength to be used for such purposes will come to grief in the end."

PLANS OF THE Y. M. C. A. TRUSTEES.

The board of trustees of the Young Men's Christian Association has organized by electing the following officers: Chairman, George T. Hawley; first vice-chairman, E. J. Vance; second vice-chairman, George D. Gray; secretary, W. A. Kling. Important work in connection with the $200,000 building project is ahead for the trustees.

The funds will be kept intact, no money from the building subscriptions being expended on expenses. The trustees are anxious to make final payment on the building within sixty days.

Work of the association will cease temporarily on May 1. The old building offices will be opened in the Delger block, Fourteenth street and Broadway.

SCAVANGERS GET A BACKSET.

POLICE JUDGE SAMUELS UP HOLDS THE NEW GARBAGE ORDINANCE.

The scavengers who have undertaken to violate the garbage ordinance and fight the prosecutions in the courts by attacking the constitutionality of the ordinance, were brought up by Police Judge Samuels last Friday.

In overruling the demurrer interposed by the scavengers arrested for violating the ordinance, Judge Samuels affirmed its legality and compelled the defendants to go to trial. As they are openly violating the law, it is morally impossible that they should escape conviction. Should they appeal their cases, they will have these convictions hanging over them, and in the event that the Supreme Court sustains the validity of the ordinance—as the weight of legal authority believes—they will have a lot of stiff fines to pay.

With this phase of the matter staring them in the face, the scavengers are likely to find the systematic violation of law less inviting than it seemed at first.

J. H. Creeley appeared for the scavengers and in arguing in support of his demurrer said the ordinance granting exclusive rights to the Pacific Incinerating Company to handle the garbage was unconstitutional in that it invaded private rights and deprived persons of their property. He claimed that the City Council had acted in excess of its police powers in passing the ordinance.

L. S. Church, representing the Pacific Incinerating Company, which has a contract with the city for collecting and burning garbage, appeared as special prosecutor. He maintained that the Council, in matters affecting public sanitation and health, had very broad powers and that it had full warrant to prohibit or to regulate a business that might become a menace to public health or might become a public nuisance.

Judge Samuels decided that the ordinance was not in conflict with the constitution, and that the Council had not exceeded its jurisdiction in passing it.

Mr. Creeley said his clients would appeal. More arrests will now follow.

MAXWELL SUES P. O. CONTRACTOR.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—The California Stevedore and Ballast Company filed a libel Saturday in the United States District Court against the British ship Loch Trool to recover $315 damages inflicted upon a hoisting barge and engine at the Oakland wharf on March 10 by the Loch Trool coming in collision with the barge.

John P. Maxwell entered suit in the United States Circuit Court against August E. Berrett the Oakland post-office contractor and his bondsmen to recover $1771 balance alleged to be due on hardware for the new postoffice building at Oakland.

Mr. Creeley said his clients would appeal. More arrests will now follow.

PLAN TO ENFORCE RULES.

TEAMSTERS' UNION ESTABLISHES FINES FOR VIOLATIONS OF ITS LAWS.

Final action has been taken by Teamsters' Union, No. 70, on a set of new rules to govern the members in their relations to unfair work and to the union. Fines will be imposed as follows for the breaking of the rules:

For patronizing Japanese and non-union restaurants, $5; patronizing unfair stores, $2.50; not patronizing labor law; $5; not attending special meetings, $5; attending meetings, intoxicated and creating a disturbance, from $1 to $25; not wearing monthly union button in plain view before the 10th of each month, 50 cents; allowing any man to work on strike, $2.50; dues not paid for three months, 50 cents.

All fines shall be paid within ten days after becoming imposed. Any member or members of the brotherhood found violating or breaking any of the property about headquarters shall be charged for the damage.

The committee received the unanimous vote of the union after having been considered at three special meetings.

An assessment of 50 cents a month was imposed for the benefit of the locked-out butchers. The first month's assessment, amounting to $100, was paid out of the treasury to the strikers.

TO ESTABLISH MARKET.

It is claimed that the butchers have finally secured an option on the lease of the building where the Lyric Theater has been. It is the intention of the California Co-operative Meat Company to establish a meat market in the building as soon as the negotiations under way for securing a supply of cattle are completed. The company was organized for the purpose of breaking the meat trust and compelling the re-employment of the discharged butchers. As yet no date has been set for the opening of the new market.

ELITES WIN BALL GAME.

TAKE EXCELSIORS DOWN IN FAST GAME THREE TO ONE.

In a fast and snappy game the Elites defeated the Excelsiors at Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, yesterday afternoon by a score of 3 to 1.

The Elites were the first to score. In the fifth inning, with two men out, Whitlath lined out a single which scored Keller.

The Excelsiors scored in the sixth. Mair, who was first at bat, hit for two bags; De Brunner raised a high one into the third baseman's mitts and was retired. Whitlath flew out and then Winslow took a free walk to first. Taylor, who was up next, hit out a single and scored Mair.

Four hits in succession in the eighth inning gave the Elites two runs and the game.

The Excelsiors were able to bunch their hits but once, and this was in the sixth. Dornin made a seemingly impossible catch in centerfield. He also retired four other men, making a total of five put-outs to his credit. Winslow played a brilliant game at short for the Excelsiors. The teams lined up as follows:

Excelsiors—Birdsall, centerfield; Gibson, leftfield; Mair, third base; De Brunner, first base; Willard, catcher; Winslow, shortstop; Taylor, second base; Bridge, right field; Cox, pitcher.

We Will Buy

A 50c Bottle of Liquezone and Give it to You to Try.

Liquezone is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. It is the only way to end the cause of any germ disease. It is also a vitalizing tonic with which no other product can compare.

It is new in America, and millions who need it, don't know of it. For that reason, we make this remarkable offer. We will buy the first bottle and give it to you if you need it. We will do this gladly to let the product itself show you what it can do.

We Pay $100,000

For the American rights to Liquezone—the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, in this country and others. We paid it because Liquezone does what all the skill in the world can do without it. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Not Medicine

Liquezone is the result of a process which for more than 20 years, has been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. Its virtues are derived solely from gas, made in large part from the best oxygen producers. By a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time, these gases are made part of the liquid product. The result is a product that does what oxygen does, and oxygen is the very source of vitality, the most essential element of life. The effects of Liquezone are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $100,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is, that germs are vegetables; and Liquezone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter. That is why Liquezone kills every disease germ, and with a product which to the human body is life.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquezone kills the germs, whatever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

WHEELER OWNER OF FARM.

PRESIDENT OF THE STATE UNIVERSITY DECLARES HE IS AN AGRICULTURIST.

BERKELEY, April 18.—President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the State University delivered a very interesting address before the farmers of the Sacramento Valley during the closing session of the Farmers' Institute held at Sacramento last Friday and Saturday. This institute was one of the most important held during the year and was largely attended, not only by the farmers of the Sacramento Valley, but also by agricultural men from all over the State.

The faculty of the University was largely represented, addresses being made by Professors E. J. Wickson, C. W. Woodworth, E. W. Hilgard, C. V. Shaw, E. H. Twight, E. W. Major and Elwood Mend. Samuel Stow, president of the Agricultural Club of the University was also present and spoke on the needs of the agricultural college from a student's standpoint.

During President Wheeler's speech he said: "I do not want to be criticized as having no right in a farmer's institute, for I am a farmer myself and own a farm in Kansas. I can remember the time when people first began teaching agriculture. I was forced to listen to a series of lectures on the different breeds to secure a renewal of my scholarship. The farmers at that time used to have faith in the almanacs that gave instruction to plant seeds in accordance with the changes of the moon. "You should all remember that education confers health of body as well as health of mind. It must be that education, especially agricultural education, belongs to any one period of life or to the schools and universities. There is so much to be learned about agriculture that no one can possibly take all its branches in the college course. "Here President Wheeler dwelt upon the growing needs of the college of agriculture at the University, saying that there are five times as many agricultural students as there were five years ago. He concluded by saying that the earnest desire of the State University was to promote the agricultural industries of our glorious State. Professor Hilgard spoke on "Organization of Agricultural Education."

THOUSANDS VISIT THEATRE.

OPEN AIR CONCERT S ENJOYED AT THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

BERKELEY, April 18.—Thousands of visitors were in the Greek Theatre yesterday afternoon to hear the music rendered by three talented students. J. R. Williams, '07, on the violin, Arthur Weiss, '07, on the cello and Albert I. Elkus on the piano furnished the music. Their work was just class and was enthusiastically applauded. The program was as follows: Trio—Intermezzo (Cavalleria Rusticana—Mascagni). Violin—Sixth Air (Valse—De Bériot). Piano—The Lady of Shalott, Chopin (after Tennyson)—Albert I. Elkus. Cello—Traumerl—Schumann. Simple Aveu—Thorne. Trio—Spanish Dance (No. 4)—Moskowsky.

Hereafter the half-hour of music each Sunday afternoon will begin at five instead of four. This change has been made because of the coming of warm weather and the lengthening of the days. Even on the warmest days the Greek Theatre is comfortable at five o'clock, as by that hour a great part of it is in shade.

VARSITY PLAYERS WIN OUT.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA BASKETBALL PLAYERS ARE NOW COAST CHAMPIONS.

BERKELEY, April 18.—The University of California basketball players are now the champions of the California league. The opposing team from San Francisco was beaten in a hard and lively game by a score of 25 to 13. Although the score was largely in California's favor, she got it only by close and exciting playing clear through. Her advantage was largely in superior team work and goal-throwing. The California line-up was as follows: Forwards—T. M. Ferguson, '08, and L. P. Wherry, '07, center—E. D. Bush, '08, guard—D. M. Evans, '08 (captain), and R. L. Egenhoff, '07. Ferguson and Bush played especially well. Basket-throwing and team work was the best that has been displayed in any game this year. In only one game of the series did the California team get defeated. This is the second year that the University has got the championship, having been successful last year also.

If a man ever wants the earth it is shortly after he starts on his first ocean voyage.

MERCHANT FOILS EFFORT OF FOOTPADS.

Ignantz Fischel Talks Two Highwaymen Out of Their Purpose to Rob Him.

BERKELEY, April 18.—Ignantz Fischel, a well-known merchant of this city, deliberately talked two highwaymen out of their plans to hold him up as he was returning to his residence, 1924 University avenue early Sunday morning. At the time of the hold-up Fischel was carrying $100 in coin from his butcher shop on Shattuck avenue. As he started to go through the driveway of his residence he was startled to find a masked man leap from shadow and demand, with pointed revolver, that he throw up his hands. Another revolver was produced at the head of the merchant by a second masked man, who jumped over an adjoining fence.

TALKS TO ROBBERS. Then a bit of dialogue, remarkable on account of the courage shown by the footpads, intended victim, occurred: "Throw up your hands," demanded the thieves. "What for?" was Fischel's reply. "We want your money."

"Well, you won't get it," "We'll shoot you if you won't give us what we want," was the answer of one of the robbers. "But even if I did not, I've only got to die once." The footpads were evidently disconcerted by the manner in which Fischel ignored their demands, and were completely routed when he finally jumped to one side, at the same time yelling loudly for help. Mrs. Fischel had not retired, and she responded to the calls of her husband and turned on lights that illuminated the yard. "I could plainly see the fellows running away," said Mrs. Fischel in describing the part she had in the affair, "but they disappeared so quickly that I could not get a good view of them." FISCHEL SHOOT. Rushing into the house, Fischel secured a revolver and shot in the direction of the street, the way one of the men had taken. The other man ran along the street. After the hold-up Fischel recalled the peculiar notions of two strangers who appeared at his store early in the evening. One of the men made several inquiries of Fischel. "I have no doubt but what the men who made inquiries of me at the store are the same fellows who were with me in the yard," said Fischel in telling of his experience. "The fellows were undoubtedly nervous, and although they were rough hats and carried their faces with silk handkerchiefs, it could be easily told that they were quite young." CARNIVAL OF CRIME. The following is the list of recent hold-ups and robberies: Friday, April 18.—Burglars entered the residence of Mrs. E. Mienner of 1890 Alameda avenue and stole jewelry valued at $200. Tuesday, April 13.—Two footpads waylaid and beat William J. Sharwood, a graduate student and former instructor in chemistry at the State University. Friday, April 9.—Town Trustee Thos. HUSBAND AND WIFE DEAD.

OGDEN, April 18.—Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Stone were found dead in each others arms at their room in a lodging-house in this city last night. It is believed by the police that the woman first poisoned her husband and then herself. Stone had refused to let her have charge of his children by a former wife and this had been the cause of frequent quarrels by the two. Jealousy of Stone's sister, who had charge of the children, is supposed to have been the cause of the woman's act.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The extreme restraint of the Japanese rejoicing over the sinking of the Petropavlovsk is markedly in contrast with previous exhibitions of public feeling, says a World dispatch from Kobe. The Osaka Mamichi says: "While the nation rejoices, the individual mourns the death under such circumstances of the distinguished and gallant Makaroff." There was a great lantern procession at Nagoya Saturday night. One thousand white lanterns were carried in token of mourning for the dead, and those bearing the lanterns were preceded by banners inscribed, "We sorrow unquenchably for the brave Russian, Makaroff."

BANDIT TRIES TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

NEIDEMEYER OPENS ARTERY BUT IS DISCOVERED AND REVIVED.

CHICAGO, April 18.—Peter Neidemeier, one of the car bandits, attempted to commit suicide in his cell early today and not until he was unconscious from the effects of loss of blood was his condition noticed. He was taken at once to the jail hospital and after much work he was revived. His condition is serious but the physicians said his attempt would not prove fatal. The heads of matches were eaten as one method by which the bandit attempted to cheat the gallows. The other method was to open an artery in his left arm. This was done by means of a lead pencil, with which he tore a jagged wound in his wrist. Guard Reeder, passing Neidemeier's cell, saw him huddled in his cot with a blanket drawn over his head. A man attracted his attention and when he attempted to arouse him proved fruitless, he summoned Jailer Whitman and the cell was opened. Neidemeier was unconscious and his clothing and the blanket were found soaked with blood, which was flowing from a jagged hole in his wrist. Other guards were summoned and he was taken to the jail hospital. The artery in his wrist was fastened. Then it was learned that he had attempted to poison himself. In his cell was found a quantity of matches from which he had eaten the heads and Jailer Whitman said most of those probably had been smuggled to him by other prisoners. The physician at the hospital said he had not taken enough of the poison to prove fatal, but that he is in a serious condition from loss of blood. A close watch has been kept on the bandits since their sentence, to prevent an attempt to commit suicide and even matches have been kept from them. The wound in his wrist Neidemeier made with a lead pencil he was permitted to have.

BRAVE WOMAN IS SHOT DOWN BY ROBBER.

Mrs. Lucetta Warren Dangerously
Wounded in a Sensational Hold-up at a Berkeley Roadhouse.

BERKELEY, April 18.—While rushing to secure a revolver that she expected to use on a footpad who was holding her husband and patron of his saloon at bay, Mrs. Lucetta Warren was shot and perhaps fatally wounded last night at the Warren resort on the county road, just north of the Berkeley town line. The circumstances surrounding the hold-up and attempted murder make it one of the most sensational in the series of crimes that have been perpetrated in Berkeley during the past few weeks.

SENSATIONAL HOLDUP.
At the time of the attempted robbery and subsequent shooting, which occurred at about 8:30 o'clock, Christopher Warren was behind the bar in a saloon on the county road. Mrs. Warren was at one end of the counter and Frank Lewis, the only customer in the room, was standing in front of the bar. Warren had just drawn three glasses of beer and set them on the counter when in rushed the highwayman through the open door.

POINTS TWO REVOLVERS.
The grewsome visitor was heavily masked, his eyes alone showing through two small holes cut in the black cloth he wore. Rushing into the bar-room through the open door he at once covered the trio with two revolvers. The command to throw up hands was instantly obeyed by Warren and Lewis, who stepped back a few paces.

WOMAN RUNS FOR GUN.
But, unimpaired of the robber's edict, Mrs. Warren ran through the rear door of the saloon. Angered at the action of the woman, the highwayman yelled: "You get her, you!"

Fetch her back! Fetch her back! If you don't I'll get you!"
But neither Warren nor Lewis made a move while Mrs. Warren sped through an alley that separated her residence from the saloon.

ROBBER KNEW PREMISES.
At this juncture of the holdup an incident occurred that leads the police to believe that the act was committed by some person who was thoroughly conversant with the arrangement of the saloon and the house.
Just as Mrs. Warren was about to emerge from the alley, preparatory to entering the front door of her home, the masked man stepped back and fired a shot at the unfortunate woman at the same time keeping the men covered.

WOMAN IS SHOT.
The cry of despair that rang out from the lips of the wounded woman plainly told the men in the saloon that she had been shot.
"Oh, Chris, I'm shot! I'm shot!" she moaned.
With herculean strength and forgetting all danger to himself, Warren leaped at the would-be assassin and threw him clear out of the doorway. In a twinkling the door was bolted.

ROBBER IS LNRAGED.
Like an enraged animal the footpad flung himself at the door and repeatedly attempted to kick it in. But he did not pursue these tactics long for no sooner had Warren and Lewis passed through the alley-way than the fellow had vanished in the darkness leaving his victim prostrate on the ground.

MRS. WARREN'S PLUCK.
When the men arrived at Mrs. Warren's side, they were surprised to find Mr. Warren's revolver lying beside her on the ground. It was explained by her that after she had been shot she had unlocked the door and secured the revolver which she still hoped might be used on the fellow who had attempted her life. She was tenderly lifted and carried into the house and made as comfortable as possible while a doctor was summoned.

SEES MAN RUNNING.
But a short time previous to the holdup, Louis Sullivan had been in the saloon drinking with Frank Lewis and George Tait. He had gone but a few hundred yards down the road toward Berkeley when he was passed by a man running at top speed. The action of the man summoned his curiosity and inquired the cause of his rush.

"Oh a woman has been shot" was the stranger's reply as he sped on. Subsequently Sullivan was overtaken by Lewis who was on his way to notify a doctor and the police. The excitement was so intense that no more attention was paid to the man who had run down the road.

VICTIM HAS A CLEW.
The victim of the shooting writhed in intense pain until Dr. J. Edson Keisey came to alleviate her sufferings and repeated to those who surrounded her the following words:

THE STOLEN HORSE.
An Old Proverb With a New Application.
The words are full of "so-called" remedies for Baldness.
You may call anything in creation a remedy, but to use them is like locking the stable after the horse is stolen.
Baldness and Dandruff are caused by a germ—if you don't kill the germ the hair will fall out.
Scientists have labored with the problem of a preventative for Baldness for many years.
Newbro's Herpicide is the product of a modern idea, and will cure Dandruff and prevent Baldness because germs cannot exist when you apply Herpicide.
Herpicide is a valuable hair dressing and scalp disinfectant as well as a cure for Baldness.

Miller, John Meyer, W. Isaacs, Peter A. McGinnis, Richard Kingston, Paul M. Nippert, John R. Williams, Hugh Wylie.

HEATING PLANT PLEASES.
Supervisor Kelley reported that the new steam heating plant at the Hall of Records and Court House was complete and had been found to be in compliance with the plans and specifications. He moved that the plant be accepted.
Supervisor Rowe seconded the motion and the motion prevailed unanimously.

The rules were then suspended and the claim of Dalziel & Moller for $12,450 for the putting in of the plant, was allowed. This sum is three-fourths of the total contract price, viz $15,700. The balance will be paid thirty-five days from today.

BID CAME TOO LATE.
An envelope bearing the imprint of the Walz Safe and Lock Company of San Francisco endorsed, "Bid for Safe and Coin Tray" and bearing a postage stamp which, however, had not been canceled, was received by the board. There was no postmark on the envelope. It had passed through the postoffice. Clerk Cook announced the contents of the envelope as indicated by the endorsement.

Frederick Mitchell said the bid could not be opened or received because it had come too late, the bids on the work in question having been opened several weeks ago.
On motion of Supervisor Rowe, the envelope was ordered returned unopened to the sender.

A requisition for supplies for the County Infirmary was granted.

DAMAGES FOR COUNTY.
Supervisor Talcott presented a receipt from the County Auditor for a check from the County Treasurer for $100, which sum was damages to county poor farm by the building of the proposed foothill road, which was credited to the County Infirmary Fund. The receipt was ordered filed.

WILL GO TO HEALTH CONFERENCE.
As a consequence of the following official, self-explanatory request, Dr. Chalmers, health officer for the county, was ordered to attend the conference held at the Board guaranteeing his expenses:
"On Monday, April 18, there will be held at Esso Hotel, the second meeting of the State County and Municipal Conference. This is for the education of health officers of the different counties of the State and we deem it of great importance that all should be present."

An informed that the Supervisors have authority to send at any expense, their health officer, and the State Board hope that you will exercise this authority and that your health officer attend this conference. It is important that he should be present, but the small pay which they receive is hardly sufficient to warrant their incurring the expense. Kindly give this your attention and, if possible, have your health officer in attendance. Yours very truly, N. K. FOSTER, M. D.
Secretary State Board of Health.
